

I thoroughly appreciate the opportunity to listen to KLOVE on 91.1 in the northern Colorado area. KLOVE has been an inspiration to our community in helping to develop and promote a positive, Christian way of life. They are non-denominational and very supportive of all Christian-based activities in our communities. If KLOVE were to be replaced by an LPFM broadcaster, the effects would be negative I'm sure. There would cease to be this positive, supportive influence on the lives of many listeners. Having the KLOVE station is helping so much through prayers, written and verbal affirmations, activities and especially the music. The fact that there are no commercials is such a positive attribute that I choose to support. I definitely believe that the services KLOVE provides is in the public's best interest as it promotes such a positive, family-oriented and forward-thinking Christian attitude towards life and all it's activities and challenges.
